Presentation Skills Training

The ability to deliver an effective presentation is an invaluable skill in a wide range of situations. Learning the key skills and techniques involved is also a great way of boosting confidence.

With funding from the British and Foreign School Society, we are able to offer this 2-part course free for young people.

The course is facilitated by Andy Gibbs MA, the Museum's Audience Development Manager, who is an experienced public speaker. Sessions can be booked at the Museum or at your venue.
